CVWO ASSIGNMENT 2020

 It has been a pleasure for me to work on this assignment. I can learnt a lot and taught myself about dynamic web programming. I can add my knowledge on Ruby, Rails, Javascript, CSS, and HTML. Although my submitted assignment is far from satisfaction, I really do pick up a lot of knew skills during my learning.

The guide to use my application is very simple. First, you would be served with an index pages that can leads you to show some todo-list of your past. Then, inside the list of todo-list pages, there would be a button that leads you to create a new todo/task. Do note, that this application still contains bugs because I have not yet finished this application completely.

At last, I would like to thank you for all the chances that has been given for me to try this fascinating project. Although, in the end, I would not be pick to participate in this program, I just really want you to know that this has been the best self-learning I had ever experience without the help of expertise or any mentor. And it has been a proud experience for me to accomplishes this far.

Thank you
